He has filed the OA with the delay condonation petition seeking refixation of his pension in the last rank held by him and for grant of the monetary benefits with arrears.

12. The respondents in all the above OAs have entered appearance through Mr.V.Balasubramanian, learned SPC, and in some cases, Counter Affidavits opposing the condonation of delay have been filed. In some of the OAs, we had directed the respondents to file Calculation Statements to ascertain whether the refixation of the pension as desired by the applicants would be beneficial to them and, accordingly, such statements were filed, which reveal that the refixation canvassed was not beneficial to them. However, the Calculation Statements furnished by the respondents are not accepted by the applicants and they maintain that refixation of pension in the last rank held by them, if implemented in terms of the Government letter dated 9.2.2001, which is relied upon, would be beneficial to them.

13. Considering the limited controversy involved in these OAs for adjudication and taking into consideration the facts and circumstances involved, we found that the delay involved in prosecuting the claims require to be condoned and accordingly the applications for condonation of delay moved in the respective OAs are allowed.

14. Admittedly, all the applicants in the above OAs have much less than 10 months service in the rank held by them at the time of discharge/release. Accordingly, their pension was fixed in the lower rank from which they were promoted, in which they had more than 10 months of service. Government of India, Ministry of Defence letter dated 9.2.2001, dealing with the implementation of Government's decision and the recommendations of the 5th Central Pay Commission relating to pensionary benefits in respect of Commissioned Officers and persons below officer rank is banked upon by the applicants for refixation of their pension in the last rank held by them at the time of retirement, discharge/release. The above letter reads thus:-

"I am directed to refer to this Ministry's letter no.1(1)/99/D(Pen/Sers) dated 7.6.1999 as amended wherein Government had decided that w.e.f. 1.1.96 pension of all Armed Force Pensioners, irrespective of their date of retirement shall not be less than 50% of the minimum of the revised scale of pay introduced w.e.f. 1.1.96. PCDA(P), Allahabad has not been giving the benefit of revision of pension under modified parity to those officers who have not held their rank for last 10 months before retirement as per prevailing rules. However, there is no stipulation in the Government Order under reference.

The matter has been reconsidered in consultation with O/o CGDA. It is clarified that pension of all pre-96 retiree Armed Forces Personnel will be revised on the basis of the rank/group last held by the individual and the revised pay scale connected thereto, even if the rank/group was held for less than 10 year before retirement. Such pension will be reduced proportionately if the qualifying service is less than 33 years. Other conditions to earn pension will continue to apply.

This issues with the concurrence of Ministry of Defence(Finance/Pension) vide their U.O.No.143/Pen/01 dated 12.01.2001."

15. The aforesaid letter is a clarification issued over the previous Ministry's letter No.1(1)/99/D(Pen/Sers) dated 7.6.1999, which mandated for granting pension not less than 50% of the minimum of the revised scale of pay introduced with effect from 1.01.1996 to all armed forces personnel irrespective of their date of retirement. The benefits conferred under their letter gave rise to some doubts whether it was applicable to the defence service personnel, who retired before 1.1.1996, and had not held their rank for less than 10 months before retirement. After considering the issue, the letter dated 9.2.2001 reproduced above, was issued clarifying that pension of all pre-1996 armed forces personnel will be revised on the basis of the rank/group held by the individual and the revised pay scale connected thereto, even if the rank/group held by him was less than 10 months before retirement. In case, the qualifying service of such personnel is less than 33 years, it was further clarified, then he has to suffer proportionate deduction of refixation of his pension as postulated under the law.

16. The crucial question involved over the implementation of the Government's letter dated 9.2.2001 is whether it is beneficial or not to the applicants. The learned counsel for the Respondents has contended that the implementation of Annexure A-3 letter dated 24.8.2015, by refixing the pension in the last rank held by the applicants may not be beneficial to most of them as it is likely to cause a reduction in their pension in view of the proportionate deduction to be made with respect to their qualifying service, which in all cases, was less than 33 years. The respondents in some cases have produced pursuant to directions issued Calculation Statements to point out that the implementation of the letter would cause prejudice to the applicants involved, causing reduction from their existing pension now enjoyed. Though the Calculation Statements produced by the respondents are not accepted by the applicants in those cases, we find some force and merit in the objection canvassed by the respondents that refixation of the pension in terms of the Government letter relied upon by the applicants would not be beneficial to them.

17. In the case of applicants whose their pension was fixed in the lower rank, admittedly, it was done with reference to the maximum of that scale in which they had not less than 10 months of service, and are presently enjoying the benefits thereto. However, if their pension is refixed in terms of the Government letter dated 9.2.2001, the mandate thereunder has to be strictly followed, which demand refixation of their pension in the minimum of the revised scale from which they retired, discharged/released and further proportionate deduction has to be carried out from the pension arrived at where the qualifying service is less than 33 years. These applicants, all of them, as already pointed out, have much less than 33 years of service and as such, necessarily would have to suffer the proportionate deduction if their pension is refixed at the minimum of the revised scale of the rank from which they retired, released or discharged. In such circumstances, we are of the view, an outright direction/order for implementation of the Government letter as canvassed by the applicants in the OAs is not to be issued though they are disputing the stand of the respondents and also the Calculation Statements furnished in some of the OAs showing that refixation would cause prejudice to them and reduce the existing pension enjoyed by them. A roving expedition in respect of each claim with respect to calculations to be arrived at over the implementation of the letter by this Tribunal is not only not called for, but has to be avoided as well, especially where none of the parties has furnished specific pleadings and set forth a claim to establish that the implementation of the letter would be beneficial to them. So we are of the view that all these OAs can be disposed off with the following directions.

18. We direct the respondents to examine the claims of the applicants for refixation of their pension in terms of the Government letter dated 9.2.2001 and then in case it is beneficial to any of the applicants, to refix his pension and provide him monetary benefits, and to limit the arrears thereto for a period of three years prior to the filing of the OAs. In case the refixation of pension of any of the applicants implementing Annexure A-3 letter is likely to reduce the existing pension enjoyed by him, no further orders for refixing his pension is called for, but such applicant has to be intimated accordingly on completion of the exercise thereto. The respondents shall examine the question over refixation of pension of the applicants on the basis of the Government letter dated 9.2.2001, within a period of four months from the date of receipt of a copy of this order and communicate the decision to the applicants without further delay. We make it clear that on the basis of refixation of pension under the Government letter dated 9.2.2001, to any applicant to whom it is found beneficial, he will not seek for any additional sum towards DCRG and other benefits, but only the arrears of his pension as indicated. No order as to costs. Issue free copy of this order to both sides.
